

On Thursday, October 26, 2017, Germantown High School recognized eleven students for the September "Student of the Month" initiative and breakfast. These students were nominated by a teacher in one of the departments listed below and that teacher then attended the breakfast and presented the reasons for the nomination. The criteria used for selection is: 1) the student goes above and beyond within the classroom, 2) the student has shown dramatic improvement in the classroom and 3) the student has earned a high academic achievement. Parents, the student, and their teacher attend this breakfast held before school each month.

Germantown High School is proud to present this month's recipients:

L-R:

Makayla Quinn-World Languages, Roshni Bhalsod-Family and Consumer Sciences, Lauren Ciha-Physical Education, Grace Kelley-Science, Natalie Lemanczyk-Mathematics, Collin Petry-Music Education, Gregory Picard-Art, Sam Conrad-Social Studies, Nick Ubert-Business Education, Quenton St. George-Technology Education, Blake Martin-English