

On Friday, December 16, 2016, Germantown High School recognized eleven students for the November "Student of the Month" initiative and breakfast. These students were nominated by a teacher in one of the departments listed below and that teacher then attended the breakfast and presented the reasons for the nomination. The criteria used for selection is: 1) the student goes above and beyond within the classroom, 2) the student has shown dramatic improvement in the classroom and 3) the student has earned a high academic achievement. Parents, the student, and their teacher attend this breakfast held before school each month.

Germantown High School is proud to present this month's recipients:

L-R:

Alison Stell-Music, Caitlin O'Connor-Math, Annabelle Brusacoram-Family & Consumer Science, Mitchell Bracey-World Languages, Cole Erickson-Business Education, Shree Dudhat-Science, Quinn Gierach-Physical Education, Donovan Staroselec-Technology Education, Amanda Peroutka-Art, Katelyn St. John-English, Aza Reyes-Social Studies